Another million-share day, with rising prices, made the stock market a centre of country-wide interest today. Nearly every active stock on the list advanced materially in price. Instead of spectacular flights of a few war specialties there was broad and active business in dozens of standard securities.

Despite warnings and pessimistic predictions from professional bear brokers the public flocked into the market and bought right and left. Taking advantage of this popular tide, pools and cliques ran up some of their special issues to exceptionally high prices. Mexican Petroleum, Rock Island and Interborough Metropolitan were the star performers in the last hour of the session.

It was a give and take day between bulls and bears from 10 to 3 o'clock. The average of prices swung back and forth, sometimes high, sometimes reacting on profit taking sales, but on the whole the market closed from 1 to 3 points above the previous day.

Total sales were 1,045,000 shares of stock and $2,654,000 in bonds. This is not the highest of the year, but is well up in front rank.

Bethlehem Steel started to cut.

AT PHILADELPHIA, APRIL 14.—Following the appearance of "Home Run" Baker as a spectator at the Athletics-Boston game this afternoon rumor had it that the circuit cluster would be seen at his regular berth in a few days. Hints were made that Baker deliberately dodged spring training and put himself in condition on his Trappe farm.

RAE TANZER SAYS
"NOT GUILTY" TO
PLOT INDICTMENTDavid Slade Yet to Plead—
Search for McCullough, the Detective.

GIRL IS UNCONCERNED.

Maxwell Slade Denies Attempt Was Made to Fake a Photograph.

Rae Tanzer appeared before Judge Edward D. Cushman in the Federal Court today to plead to the indictment found against her yesterday. When asked how she wished to plead she responded "Not guilty" several times, but she was entirely composed and apparently not deeply impressed with the charge against her. Bail was fixed at $5,000, and her old bond for that amount was continued.

David Slade, the lawyer indicted with his brother Maxwell yesterday, is in Massachusetts. District Attorney Marshall received a telegram from him this morning stating that he will appear for pleading on Friday.

Federal agents went out today in search of Albert J. McCullough, the private detective, who was also indicted for complicity in the alleged conspiracy. The agents found McCullough's rooming place in East Twenty-second Street, but he was not there.

Maxwell Slade announced today that the accusation that he and his brother tried to get a photographer to take a photograph of James W. Osborne and another of Rae Tanzer and so develop them that they would appear to have been taken at the same time, with Osborne and the girl standing side by side, was preposterous. He declared that he did not know such a thing could be done until he heard the indictment read.

"If my brother and I should pick out a photographer employed by the New York World for such a piece of work," said Slade, "we oughtn't to be indicted. We ought to be put in some institution for the mentally weak."

The lawyers and detective are charged with conspiracy, and Miss Tanzer with using the mails to defraud. The Federal Grand Jury will resume the inquiry to-morrow of matters growing out of Miss Tanzer's $50,000 breach of promise suit against former Assistant District Attorney James W. Osborne, and indictments against persons not heretofore mentioned may be returned.

The Federal officials say they expect to bring the cases to trial within a month, and do not need the mysterious "Oliver Osborne." It is believed, however, without any reason being given, that Oliver will be found by the time the cases are ready for trial.

Rae Tanzer's sister, Dora and Rose, it was learned when they were arraigned yesterday on indictments charging perjury, will stick to their story that James W. Osborne is the man who courted them, despite their sister's admission she made "a horrible mistake" in confusing the lawyer with her former admirer.

Despatches from New Haven, where David Slade was found last night, quote him as attacking both District Attorney Marshall and James W. Osborne when told of the indictment, saying:

"When the proper time comes we shall demonstrate to the public the length that Mr. Marshall has gone to save himself and his friend. We will show to the community who this Oliver Osborne is, and that he is not the person he is claimed to be by Mr. Marshall." He added that he would demand a speedy trial.

The extreme penalty for the crime charged against the Slades and McCullough is two years' imprisonment and a fine of $10,000.

Government Officials and Financier
Involved in Riggs Bank Suit at WashingtonWILSON BACKING
M'ADOO IN SUIT
OF RIGGS BANKImportant Issues Are Raised in Charges Against Secretary and Williams.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Continued activity by Government officials in preparing the answer to the suit of the Riggs Bank of Washington against Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Comptroller Williams was in full evidence today. Conferences were held and plans laid for the court hearing set for next Friday.

President Wilson is taking a personal interest in the case, and McAdoo and Williams are assured of the Administration's backing.

The fact that Attorney General Gregory has taken steps to back up the treasury officials with special counsel and with attorneys of his department, and that this was done following the Cabinet meeting yesterday, is taken to mean that the President recognizes the importance of the issues involved.

Louis D. Brandeis, special counsel for the Government in the defense of McAdoo and Williams, was given an office in the Department of Justice today, and began examination of the complaint of the bank. Comptroller Williams said every effort would be made to have the Government's answer to the complaint ready for presentation to the District of Columbia Supreme Court on Friday. Mr. Brandeis is expected to write the answer, and Jesse C. Adkins and United States District Attorney Looney to aid in the argument in court.

Work Designed as Guide for Constitutional Convention.

ALBANY, April 14.—Senator Sage introduced a bill today designed to appropriate $10,000 "for a survey of the New York City government" to be used as a guide in the Constitutional Convention. The "survey" is particularly desired by convention delegates who want an investigation of New York's finances.

GIRL DROPS FIGHT
FOR LYNCH'S $660
RING; RETURNS ITHer Attorney Tosses Disputed Gem on Justice's Bench, "To Do With as He Likes."

An unexpected climax came, today, in Justice McAvoy's Court, to the suit brought by James Lynch, former Deputy Street Cleaning Commissioner, to recover from Miss Mary McCarthy a $660 diamond ring, which he said he had given Miss McCarthy "to keep for him" temporarily, but which she declared had been given her by him as an engagement ring.

When court opened, Miss McCarthy's attorney, James A. Donegan, said:

"Your Honor, my client has been so harassed by reporters and photographers, she desires to turn this ring over to Your Honor to do as you please with it."

The lawyer tossed the ring onto the Justice's desk, but the court returned it and ordered the case to proceed. Walter B. Proter, diamond expert, testified the diamond was worth $660. Then the case closed and Justice McAvoy, after Miss McCarthy's lawyer announced she would offer no defense, directed the jury to bring in a verdict for the plaintiff.

The ring had been presented to Lynch by fellow employees in the Street Cleaning Department as a token of esteem. Lynch admitted having given the young woman many other valuable presents and she continued to wear the ring until this morning.

Miss McCarthy was to have taken the witness stand to prove what Lynch had denied—that there was an engagement. When she left the court room, last night, reporters and photographers followed her home. She looked herself in her house, but even that failed to daunt the photographers. Two of them, she says, broke boards off a fence in their efforts to snap her.

JITNEY BUS BILL PASSED.

ALBANY, April 14.—The Senate by a vote of 27 to 18 today passed the bill of Senator Thompson, which provides that jitney bus lines must be subject to control of the Common Councils of cities as well as under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission. Some New York city Senators voted against the bill, fearing it would interfere with the Fifth Avenue bus lines.

NORFOLK, Va., April 14.—"The Karlsruhe is still on top of the ocean," said Capt. Thierfeldt of the Kronprinz Wilhelm today, denying rumors that the German cruiser had been sunk.

"When I communicated with her last all on board were well."

BRYAN CONTRADICTS ENVOY
REGARDING GERMAN NOTEDidn't Refer Correspondents to Embassy—Read Message First in Newspapers.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Secretary Bryan today contradicted Ambassador Von Bernstorff's statement that he (Mr. Bryan) referred correspondents to the German Embassy for copies of the note attacking America's neutrality.

Mr. Bryan also denied that the note was delivered on April 2. It was delivered on April 5, he said, and translation errors compelled its reference back to the Embassy, so that Counselor Lansing did not get it until April 9. Ambassador Von Bernstorff made it public on April 13 and Mr. Bryan said he personally read the text first in the newspapers.

ALBANY, April 14.—The McWhinney bill, intended to separate the Rockaways from Greater New York and incorporate them as a city with a commission form of government, passed the Assembly today without opposition.

Commander Eva Booth Collapses.
CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 14.—It became known today that Miss Evangeline Booth, Commander of the Salvation Army, collapsed in her hotel here last night after a lecture. Her physician stated this afternoon that her condition was not dangerous, and it was probable she would leave for her home in New York tonight.

HEAVY FRENCH LOSSES
IN BATTLES ON MEUSE,
REPORTED BY GERMANSBoth Sides of Wedge at St. Mihiel
Attacked at Once—Berlin, Admitting Early Reverse, Declares
Reinforcements Turned Tide.TWO BRITISH WARSHIPS
DAMAGED BY THE TURKS

BERLIN, via wireless to London, April 14.—The French have renewed their furious attacks against both sides of the German wedge in the St. Mihiel region, the War Office announced this afternoon.

The enemy's onslaughts have been most violent on the north side of the wedge, between Malzerre and Marcheville, east of Verdun. The War Office admitted that French infantry penetrated the German positions along a narrow front near Marcheville. Reinforcements were brought up and the Germans recaptured the positions by an equally violent assault.

LIQUOR PROBLEM IS DROPPED BY BRITISH CABINETAsquith Announces That the Question Will Be Left to the Country.

LONDON, April 15 (United Press).—The British Cabinet will take no action to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors. After several conferences the Ministry has decided to leave the liquor question to the people, through their representatives in the House of Commons. Premier Asquith made this announcement today.

When Parliament reassembled this afternoon the liquor question and rumors of an early peace were uppermost in the public mind. There were all sorts of rumors that Premier Asquith would have important announcements to make on both subjects.

The Cabinet's position on the liquor question was quickly made known. Parliament had scarcely gone into session when a member queried the Prime Minister on the result of the recent liquor discussions. The Premier replied that the ministry had reached the conclusion that the Commons, and not the Government, should decide a matter of vital interest to the British people.

Harold J. Tennant, Parliamentary Under Secretary for War, made the announcement that beer was the only intoxicant now permitted in the cantons and that it was not the intention of the authorities to prohibit its sale.

In response to another query, Secretary of State for the Colonies Harcourt intimated that the Government would consult Canada and other self-governing colonies most fully when the time to discuss peace terms arrives. He had no observations to make regarding the probability of an early peace.

Other strong attacks in this same region broke down before the French reached the German wire entanglements. German artillery tore great gaps in the advancing lines of the enemy, causing unusually heavy losses. The text of the German War Office report follows:

"An attempt made by the enemy to advance at night at Berry au Bois failed. Northwest of Verdun the French yesterday employed against our lines a mine developing yellowish smoke and asphyxiating gases.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle fighting continues. During a strong French attack against our Malzerre-Marcheville line the French penetrated our positions on one narrow section at Marcheville, but they speedily were driven out again by counter attacks. On the remainder of this front the French attack broke down in front of our position.

"Between Combray and St. Mihiel there were artillery duels. In the Forest of Ally three enemy attacks were repulsed after the French had made unsuccessful mining attempts.

"An attack on both sides of the high road between Essey and Flirey failed. The attack on the west of this road led to fighting at close quarters, in which our troops retained the ground. In the Forest of La Prete there was no fighting.

"In the Vosges a French advance on Schœn, northeast of southwest of Metzlach, failed."

BRITISH BATTLESHIP
AND DESTROYER DASH
PAST TURKISH FORTS.

LONDON, April 14 (United Press).—Two allied warships were severely damaged by fire from the Turkish forts in the bombardment of the Dardanelles on Monday, according to despatches from Constantinople today, passed by the Press Bureau as without confirmation. A British cruiser, the Turkish War Office announced, was hit by several shells and a torpedo-boat was damaged.

A despatch from the Island of Tenedos said the British destroyer Renard ran past the Turkish forts at high speed, penetrating ten miles inside the strait. The battleship London followed, drawing most of the fire of the Asiatic batteries, those on the Euro-
